Promises, promises ...

In a recent Survation poll, conducted on behalf of the Jewish Leadership Council, Forty-seven percent of British Jews would "seriously consider" emigrating if Labour party head Jeremy Corbyn is elected prime minister. As there are only a few nationalist candidates standing in the general election, it must be tempting for anti-Zionists to vote Labour.

The Law is the Law

Following the discovery of the bodies of 39 would-be illegal immigrants in a shipping container in Essex, the local deputy police chief appealed to the Vietnamese community in Britain to come forward with information. In return she promised that "no action would be taken against them even if they were living here illegally". As editor of League Sentinel, I have written to the Home Secretary asking her to discipline the officer involved and issue a general reminder that the police must enforce ALL of the laws of this country not just the ones they fancy. Giving an amnesty to illegal immigrants is not part of a police officers remit.

I will publish any replies I receive!

General Election

As I write my column the general election has just begun, Manifestos have been published and unveil the horrors that could face us. Labour promise to continue and expand the "Freedom of Movement" agreement that has led to a mass influx of beggars, pickpockets, prostitutes and "cash in hand" car wash attendants from Eastern Europe. Under a Labour government "Freedom of Movement" will apply WORLD WIDE. The Tories will grants visas to live and work here on a "points" basis to attract more workers from Africa and Asia, instead of from Europe. And the Lib-Dems if elected, will legalise cannabis, thus condemning our young people to a future of drug abuse. Welcome to "junkie" Britain.

Help!

Politicians Propose ALL Drugs be Decriminalised

Heroin to be free on the NHS

Politicians from a parliamentary cross-party committee are recommending that ALL drugs, including Class A drugs such as Heroin and Cocaine be decriminalised!

This is despite England and Wales facing an epidemic of drug related deaths, up to 2,917 last year, and Scotland having the highest drugs related death rates in Europe!

The move would mean that drug users found in possession of an amount of drugs considered just enough for their own personal use would no longer be subject to arrest or court action, no matter how many times they are caught.

Already, many police authorities turn a "blind-eye to possession of Class B drugs such as Cannabis, which has resulted in a massive drop in prosecutions and according to some experts has led to a large increase of Class B drug usage. A similar reaction could occur if the laws on the possession of Class A drugs are scrapped.

The "Health and Social Care Committee" Chaired by the Tory renegade, and now Lib-Dem, Dr Sarah Woolaston, also recommends drug users be given free needles at their local chemist and, doctors be allowed to proscribe heroin on the NHS!

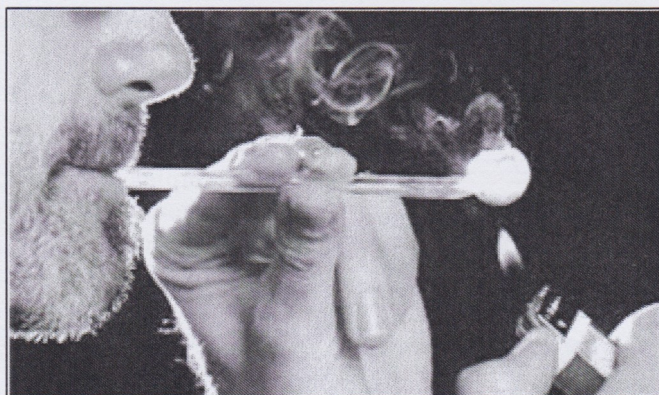

Facilities where drug users can inject themselves under medical supervision should also be provided by local authorities, the committee advises.

40% particularly amongst the young, since it was decriminalised.

The Committee also ignore the examples of Japan and South Korea where, possession of illegal drugs means mandatory arrest, a court appearance, a heavy fine or short jail sentence and public naming and shaming in national news media.

Not good for one's career!

Within months of introducing these actions the habit of taking "cool" drugs such as cocaine by young professionals in the finance industry suddenly became very unfashionable!

Cocaine Usage is no longer "cool" in Japan

"Possession with intent to supply" carries a mandatory prison sentence and small-time dealers are feeling the full impact of the new system.

Britain's drug problem is a "lifestyle choice". Rehabilitation courses are available through the NHS or a growing number of charities. But the problem will only decrease when, (a) the addict wants to get clean, and (b) the British justice system fulfils its duty to the public and enforces existing laws.

Although it may surprise them, British police do NOT have the right to ignore laws that they don't like and, senior officers must be disciplined for failing in their duty to enforce our drug laws.

It's time to take our streets back!

NHS: National HEROIN Service

The Committee use Portugal as an example, where Class A users are treated as "being sick" and the responsibility of the health service. They ignore the fact that Class B usage such as cannabis, has increased by

Nationalists Under Attack as PayPal Closes National Front Account

The National Front has become the latest victims of the political censorship campaign led by the PayPal organisation, by having their PayPal account suspended without warning and their website, nationalfront.info taken down by its host.

The NF, led by former soldier Tony Martin, is just the latest victim of a campaign of political censorship by internet giants.

The party has responded by re-launching its 12 page magazine, The Flame (issue 48) edited by veteran nationalist, Mike Easter. In a lead article, NF stalwart Richard Edmonds describes how Britain has become an "occupied" country run by an occupation government.

English Democrats to fight Bizarre Court Ruling

A bizarre court ruling is preventing an English Democrat candidate from campaigning in the constituency she is contesting in the general election. Amy Dalla Mura, is contesting the Broxtowe seat in Nottinghamshire, currently occupied by Tory renegade Anna Soubry who now represents Change UK.

The problem arose when Amy saw Soubry giving a press interview in the Central Lobby of Parliament and interrupted by shouting "traitor" at Soubry. Despite many Tories agreeing with Amy's sentiments, she was arrested and charged under "harassment" and "hate" crime legislation.

At Westminster Magistrates Court, Amy appeared before District Judge, Lady Arbuthnot, whose husband had worked with Soubry in government! She was convicted, despite the police and CPS originally saying no offence had been committed!

Part of the sentencing conditions were that Amy was banned from entering the Broxtowe constituency that she and Soubry were contesting. This legal ruling had massive political implications and immediately gave Soubry an unfair political advantage.

English Democrats are now trying to raise funds to have a judicial review overturn the bizarre restrictions placed on Amy.

Funds are also needed to mount an appeal in the Crown Court against her conviction, arguing the incident was one of "political campaigning" and not "harassment".

NHS in CRISIS!

As the General Election is in full flow, all of the major parties have claimed the National Health Service is "in Crisis" and promise to increase its budget by billions of pounds. Tens of thousands of nurses and doctors are promised, most of these to be recruited from abroad. "We couldn't run our health service without foreign workers" is probably true, but only because we allow too many visitors and migrants access to our NHS.

At present temporary migrants and foreign workers are supposed to pay an annual fee of £400 to have access to the NHS. The Tories, if elected, have promised to increase that figure to £625 a head, thus raising up to £450 million each year. Those who do not pay the surcharge are supposed to pay for their NHS treatment as private patients, but most do not. Hospital Trusts billed foreign patients over £178 million for treatment over a two-year period. Only £1 in every £3 was recovered!

In one case, the bill for a Nigerian woman who gave birth to quads in a London NHS hospital came to over £500,000. The woman left the country without paying the bill!

Labour, if elected has promised to scrap the surcharge and give free NHS treatment to "one and all". This will cost the taxpayer an extra £2 billion over the next five years. It will also give free rein to "health tourism" and open the floodgates to sick people across the world.

Already waiting times at A&E have increased by 10% in 12 months and just 68% of patients at A&E were seen within four hours. Thousands of others were left on a trolley in a corridor for 12 hours and more before being seen.

NHS "Corridor Care"

There are 3 million visa applications to visit, work or study in Britain each year and this puts ever increasing pressure on our NHS. Poor training, language problems and a culture of arrogance and cover-up often leads to horrific treatment of patients by NHS staff.

The recent scandal at the Shrewsbury and Telford Hospital Trust demonstrates the incompetence and callousness that can occur.

Investigations are ongoing, but we do know that 42 babies died along with three pregnant mothers and a further 50 left with severe disabilities after being deprived of oxygen during birth. 600 cases of alleged clinical malpractice are still being investigated.

Previous experience suggests that by the time guilty culprits are identified, if ever, they will have retired from medicine and often left the country.

What can be done ?

Sadly, there is no short easy answer.

Financial incentives such as returnable study fees and generous bursaries for British citizens studying to become a doctor or a nurse must be introduced.. In return, students would be legally bound to work for the NHS for five years after graduation. Recruitment from abroad must prioritise experience and language skills, both written and oral.

To reduce demand and increase funding, all people coming to Britain to work must have a work permit and valid health insurance. Accompanying family dependents must also have health insurance. Checks must be made at the point of entry and permission to enter will be denied if the documents are not valid. Employers would be made legally liable for periodic checks.

All visitors and tourists must obtain a visitors permit and health insurance before travelling to Britain. Tour operators and couriers would be responsible for checking before the journey begins.

It's OUR NHS and we want it back!

Heritage – Culture - Identity

YULETIDE and the WINTER SOLSTICE

The traditional Festival of Yule and the Winter Solstice have largely vanished into the Christian festival of Christmas, itself now challenged by politically correct councils to vanish it into a non-religious "Winter Festival". But what is Yuletide and the Winter Solstice? Both of which were celebrated by our North European ancestors long before Christianity?

To our ancestors living in the forests and on the frozen plains of Northern Europe, the Winter Solstice was an important religious event. Also known as the festival of Yule it celebrated the end of the dark days of winter, and the coming of the new spring. For the Solstice marked the shortest day and longest night of the year. It is also the turning point of the year, as following the longest night, the sun begins to grow stronger in the sky and gradually the days become longer again. From a religious perspective it is a celebration of rebirth and hope for the future. Several ancient sites of "standing stones" are aligned to catch the birth of the new dawn.

The festival of Yule goes by different names throughout Nordic Europe, Jul in Scandinavia, and Jol in old Icelandic. The Prose Edda has references to the Yule festival as does the Ynglinga saga, which mentions a Yule feast lasting three nights. Although in some parts of Europe the festival went on for twelve nights. Feasting as part of the Yule festival seems common practice throughout, with records of toasts being drunk first to Odin for "victory" and then to the gods Njoror and Freyr "for good harvests and for peace".

Fire also played a vital part in the celebrations with the Yule log being burnt on a ceremonial fire and candles or specially prepared lanterns being lit.

Many Pagan dwellers of the great forests that covered much of Northern Europe worshipped "gods of nature" such as the Green Man. This figure was depicted as having two sides, one made of Holly, the Holly King, and the other of Oak, the Oak King. In winter, when nature is dormant and most trees have shed their leaves the Holly King, an evergreen, rules supreme. Following the Winter Solstice, as mother earth warms up, the Oak springs back to life and the Oak King rules again. Thus is the everlasting cycle of nature.

The "Green Man"

Even after Europe began to convert to Christianity the Festival of Yule was still celebrated. In AD 730, the "Father of English History" the Venerable Bede, recorded that the Pagan Yule festival was still being celebrated in parts of Britain, and in AD 840, King Haakon, the first Christian King of Norway, mentions Yule feasts continue to be held throughout his icebound Kingdom.

*A Merry Yule to you and your kith and kin.
Blessed Be!*

NEWS AROUND BRITAIN

Asian Migration Increases in Britain

Indians Top Migration List

Britain's racial identity, culture and religious traditions continue to be eroded through mass migration. With the net migration figures topping 200,000 every year, the news that non-White, non-Christian migrants now make up the majority is a disturbing fact.

Indians have now overtaken Poles as the biggest immigrant population in Britain, a report by the governments, Office for National Statistics (ONS) has revealed.

Since Britain opened its doors to EU citizens in 2004, Poles have been the largest single group to arrive in Britain. The ONS claims that 827,000 predominantly White, Christian Poles moved here from 2004 to 2015. In addition, there have been 434,000 migrants settle here from Romania and 358,000 from the Irish Republic. But, in the year ending in June, more Eastern Europeans left Britain (42,000) than arrived (37,000).

They have been supplanted by migrants from India and Pakistan. Over roughly the same period, 837,000 migrants arrived on our shores from India and 533,000 from Pakistan! With almost One million new migrants every four years from South Asia, the face of Britain is being changed, possibly forever!

The Conservatives new proposed immigration system will be based on points allocated for skills etc. It gives no preference to migrants from White Christian countries. Further eroding our race and culture!

Whilst, British politicians continue to promote the "benefits" migrants bring to Britain, they are slow to admit that there are currently over 4000 EU migrants in our prisons. These cost the British taxpayer an estimated £160 million a year. As EU citizens they are almost impossible to deport, even those guilty of the most serious crimes.

Albania is not yet a member of the EU and yet more than ten percent of foreign prisoners in England and Wales are Albanian, and over seven percent of the UK's Albanian male population are in prison.

The Battle to Control the Labour Party

Zionists v Anti-Zionists

The battle to control the Labour Party and influence its Foreign policy took a sinister new turn recently when all three Jewish newspapers in Britain urged both Jews and non-Jewish readers to boycott Labour in the general election. The first time in living memory that a minority religious group has tried openly to interfere in a general election!

The initial campaign was orchestrated by the three main Jewish community groups in Britain, the Board of Deputies, Community Security Trust and the Campaign Against Anti-Semitism, all predominately pro-Zionists.

From its beginning, the campaign effectively split the Labour party, with its Jewish MPs leading attacks against their leader. Several then left the party in a blaze of well-planned publicity. This campaign has been further extended by Britain's leading Jewish newspaper, the Jewish Chronicle and two smaller Jewish newspapers, who have called for their readers to boycott Labour at the general election. Such actions will no doubt cause resentment!

This was followed up by a full scale attack on Labour candidates. Anti-Zionist statements made by candidates condemning the genocidal actions of the Israeli state, and the brutality of the Israeli Defence Forces (IDF) have been deliberately confused with anti-Semitism.

party is most likely to defeat Labour in their constituency – even if they would never normally vote for that party"! The same Rabbi also suggested that Corbyn "is a possible threat to our existence"! What hysterical rubbish!

"Oh! Jeremy Corbyn"

How Some Pro-Zionists Would Like to Portray Corbyn

Labour's reaction to the accusations of "institutional anti-Semitism" has been one of almost total surrender. First they accepted the "new" definition of anti-Semitism as invented by an international holocaust remembrance group. This definition restricts criticism of Israel and its policies.

Then the party imposed a clampdown on the free speech of its members and an internal witch-hunt began. Any member who had criticised Israel for treating the Palestinians like the Nazis were alleged to have treated its Jewish population was suspended from the party. Another member, who, ten years ago, questioned the numerical accuracy of the Holocaust, was also suspended.

Not all Jews are Zionists

One prominent Rabbi admitted that religious leaders would not normally "take sides" in elections, but then went on to advise Jewish voters to "vote for whichever

ZIONISTS FIGHT TO CONTROL LABOUR

One member was even suspended for complaining that the party was being "too apologetic over the claims of anti-Semitism". In just a few months dozens of members have been suspended, and 12 members have been expelled.

So much for free speech under a Labour government!

There is no doubt that Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn is the main target of the Zionists campaign. A life-long advocate of Palestinian rights, Corbyn is seen as a threat to British-Israeli relationships if he ever becomes Prime Minister. Corbyn is also a strong supporter of the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions movement which calls for a complete boycott of Israel as a whole, and the Israelis fear this could become official government policy under Labour.

Therefore, Corbyn must be stopped by any means necessary!

Corbyn Supports Boycotting Israel

Sources in the Trade Unions are convinced that the campaign against Labour and Corbyn are being coordinated by Mossad agents working out of the Israeli embassy in London.

If true, a foreign power working to interfere with another nation's government election must be viewed as a "hostile act", and appropriate action taken!

Corbyn is a crypto-Communist who in his relatively short time as leader has dragged Labour further and further to the extreme-left. His wild financial plans and open-door immigration policies will be a disaster for Britain if he is ever elected to power.

But, it must remain the choice of the British electorate, who they elect to govern them, not the Israeli's or their agents!

General Election Roundup

When nominations closed there were just a few nationalist candidates fighting this election.

The National Front and For Britain both decided not to field any candidates.

The British National Party are fielding just one candidate, David Furness in the Hornchurch and Upminster constituency on the fringes of London. This is the lowest number of candidates since 1982.

David was previously a candidate in the London Mayoral election

BNP candidate David Furness

The English Democrats are fielding five candidates.

In the 2017 elections UKIP fielded almost 500 candidates. This election, just two years later they have reduced to just 44 candidates. In 13 of these constituencies UKIP will face competition from Brexit Party candidates.

Most nationalists are expected to vote for the Brexit party in areas where genuine nationalists candidates are not standing, but pollsters are predicting the Brexiteers could make no gains following their decision to support the Tories by not standing in half the seats available.

Turkish leaders are demanding that the EU re-settles some of the migrants in Europe, as well as paying to help Turkey to re-settle up to 1 million refugees in northern Syria where Turkey is establishing a designated "safe zone" on land recently captured from the Kurdish people.

Germany

AfD Make More Gains in Regional Elections

Germany held its last regional election of the year in the eastern state of Thuringia, and the nationalist AfD party polled 23.% coming second, and in the process pushed Angela Merkel's governing party, the CDU into third place.

AfD Finish Second in Thuringia

This corresponds with regional results earlier in the year when AfD finished second in both Saxony and Brandenburg, polling 27.5% and 23.5% respectively. These results showed that AfD had tripled its vote in Saxony and doubled its vote in Brandenburg since the last elections.

The AfD became the first patriotic nationalist party to enter Germany's national parliament in 60 years when it finished third in the Federal elections of 2017.

New laws on anti-Semitism

Germany is to tighten its laws against "anti-Semitism" by making such offences "hate crimes" and subject to heavier sentencing.

This follows a report that anti-Semitic crimes have risen by 10% to a total of 1,646 in the past year.. The offences are mainly carried out in the form of threats and insults via social media. Just 62 of the reported attacks were physical.

Last year the government's Anti-Semitism Commissioner issued a warning that "Jewish men should not wear skullcaps in public for their own safety" but was forced to retract the warning after public condemnation.

Austria

Hitler's House to Become a Police Station

Austrian authorities are to turn the house where Adolph Hitler was born into a Police Station. The house, in Braunau am Inn, Northern Austria was seized by the government in 2016 and offered the owner just 300,000 euros in compensation. Following a court battle the building's owner, Gerlinde Pommer, was awarded 812,000 Euros compensation.

The decision brings to an end years of uncertainty over a building that attracts thousands of "pilgrims" to the German leader's birthplace every year. Architects will redesign the building in the hope "pilgrims" will be deterred.

Many books and articles have been written on this subject, most of which tend to be one-sided. Such works are of limited value to the serious researchers as they are usually unbalanced in the selection of source material and often tendentious in its use. Even fair and balanced works on the subject rarely reflect the detail, context and true motivation that only the actual words of those involved can convey.

We realise, of course, that many of the works on our list are controversial. From the inception of Steven Books, however, our policy has been not to publish or supply any work that might incite hate or infringe UK laws.
